

Jacob Wiremu Tautari – Maioro Concepts

Ngāti Hine, Ngāti Maniapoto, Ngāi Te Rangī, Ngāti Raukawa and Kati Mamoe

Originally from Murihiku (Invercargill) and now based in Rotorua, I have been practicing Tā moko for nearly two decades. As a graduate carver of the New Zealand Māori Arts and Crafts Institute, I bring over ten years of carving experience to my work. My practice is grounded in the preservation and continuation of traditional Māori art forms.

Costings:

Moko Kauae: $600

Tā moko on the body: $200- 400 roughly or I could work to your budget.
