Who am I

A scenic landscape with rolling hills, a winding road, and a forest. The text is overlaid on the image.

Do not go where the path may lead you, go instead where there is no path and leave a trail.

-Ralph Waldo Emerson-

An aerial photograph of a large, intricate maze constructed from dense, green hedges. The hedges are meticulously maintained and feature small, vibrant red flowers scattered throughout. A narrow, dark path winds through the maze, creating a complex network of loops and dead ends. The overall scene is a lush, green landscape with a high level of geometric precision.
